LETTING GO OF THE OLD TO BRING IN THE NEW

Signing up to a membership group is significant. You need to be able to use what is being offered and know that it is value for money because, let's face it, it's an ongoing expense. I know I can help. I have:

- Improved the physical health of numerous conditions.
- Give people coping strategies to deal with their anxiety, stress and despair to the point they rarely experience these emotions and if they do, they pass through the challenge quickly, taking in the learnings that were there for them.
- Changed people's understanding of themselves and their situations.
- Fifteen years' experience as a healer and have brought people back from the edge of suicide plans.

To date, this work has been done one-on-one with my clients at my normal healing rates, but you can get the advantage of my direct support in the membership group. Rather than $120 for a healing, the same advice will be available for $27.

Add a healing meditation once a month and the equivalent learnings of several full day workshops, an annual membership is worth $324, but the value is at least $172 per month (or $2,070 per annum). That is less than 3 personal healings and you will be getting at least 12 healings a year.

Plus, think about what your depression is costing you in time, money, emotional pain and loss of opportunity. Can you really continue to live this way and have it dictate so much of your life?

Come and try it and if you don't think it's helping you can opt out at any time. Hey, anything is worth a shot when what you have been doing hasn't worked.

I often work with clients who have run out of options and making their last desperate attempt to achieve the life they want. They don't know where to turn anymore and are willing to give anything a try. All you need is an open mind to thinking about your experiences in a different way. What do you have to lose? You might just find a community of people who understand your pain and don't run away or try cheer you up when you say, "I've had enough of life".

If you are still not sure, then come and get to know me through my newsletter.

And come see Hippie Homework in action on my Facebook page here, or YouTube channel here. This is just a taste of what you will receive in Splat, which is specifically tailored for people seriously struggling with Life.

I would love to help you through to the other side, because no one should stay in their challenges longer than they have to. I turned my life around and I can help you turn yours around too.
